We hear how the orphans approach the house. Hear a woman leaving her room to await them in the courtyard. The woman and one of the girls will grow very close. They will begin to understand each other's lives and loneliness. This is their first contact. Lives in which they are placed in a near relation to a world over which their lives, joined to it, have no power of being received. From here on their thoughts, views and feelings will connect and become one. She knew that all was decided, we had to whisper, she had only to keep silent., 2023, digital video, sound, 4:37 min.

An image already received early in life shows itself again and I am reminded of the feeling in the way that a life must remain in relation to this image. We hoped for some small means of improvement, whatever it might be; she knew that all was decided, we had to whisper, she had only to keep silent., 2023, digital video, sound, 3:48 min.
